No Determination Has Been Reached by Government as to Policy It Will Pursue-Depends on Public Senti-

Washington, May 31 .- From unofficial sources the full text of Germany's reply to President Wilson's note has been received here and was even more disappointing to administration officials than the summary of its contents indicated. As a matter of fact the only specific concessions that the United States obtains from Germany from this note is an expression of regret in regard to the loss of life of Americans on the Lusitania and a promise to compensate for non-contraband carrying ves sels which have been sunk through Germany's fault. Neither of these concessions is new. Both were contained in previous notes to the state

Frankly, the Germant note is un acceptable to this government, but no determination has been reached as to sued by the United States. This will depend chiefly upon the expressions of public sentiment in this country within the next few days.

Italians Capture Fort Luserne and Occupy Cortina D'Ampezzo Pass and Valley-No Fighting In West,

Rome, May 31.-The government has officially issued an account of Italian war operations in Austria:

"On the Tyrol and Trentino frontier in the Guidiciaria valley the Italians have occupied the important position of Gimaspezza near Storo, on the high plateau of Asiago. Our artillery destroyed the armored forts of Luserna, which hoisted the white flag. Seeing this the Austrian forts at Belvedere directed a furious fire against Luserna, completing the destruction.

"In Cadoro we have occupied the Cortina D'Ampezzo Pass, and all the neighboring valley.

These twin messengers of modern civilization, born in the skies, stand today the most faithful and efficient public servants that ever toiled for the human race.

They are of American nativity and while warm from the mind of the inventive genius have, under American supervision, spun a net-work of wires across the earth and under the seas. Telegraphy, in its early youth, mastered the known world and the telephone has already conquered the earth's surface, and now stands at the seashore ready to leap across the No industry in the history of the world has ever made such rapid strides in development and usefulness, and none has ever exerted a more powerful influence upon the civilization of its day than the Telegraph and Telepho Their achievement demonstrates the supremacy of two distinct types of American genius-invention and organ-this marvelous industry and a journey along the pathway of its development, illuminated at every mile-post of its progress by the lightning-flashes of brilliant minds, will be taken at a very early date. A brief statistical review of the industry brings out its growth and magnitude in a most convincing and unorgetable manner. The telephone service of the United States is the most popular and efficient and its rates are the cheapest of the telephone systems of the world. We are the greatest talkers on earth.

We send 60 per cent of our communications over the telephone. The world has about 15,000,000 telephones and of this number the United States has approximately 9,540,000, Europe 4,020,000 and other countries 1,300,000. SUNDAY

Lesson X .- Second Quarter, For June 6, 1915.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, II Sam. xi, 22 to xii, 7a-Memory Verses, xii, 5, 6, 7a. Golden Text, Ps. Ii, 10-Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

Instead of assigning us a helpful leson, such as chapter viii, which we briefly touched upon in our last, or the beautiful story of David's kindness to the son of Jonathan (chapter ix), the committee has given us in this lesson one of the worst phases of the human heart, which is always and only de ceitful above all things and desperately wicked (Jer. xvii, 9, 10). He who alone knows and can search the heart has caused this and all similar records to be written that we might see more clearly that all are sinners and that there is none righteous-no, not onebut that Jesus Christ came into the world to save sinners and that the greatest sinner may be saved and the greatest backslider forgiven and restored. To find such a development of our sinful human nature in such a man as David after all that the Lord had done for him is truly humiliating and should lead us all to say, "Woe is me!" for who is there to whom the prophet might not say concerning this or some other phase of our sinful nature. "Thou art the man" (xii, 7). When we remember that "the thought of foolishness is sin" and that a sinful look is in the sight of God equal to a sinful act (Prov. xxiv. 9: Matt. v. 28 and that, as C. H. Spurgeon said, "Whatever the Lord Jesus Christ would not think or say or do is sin," it leads one to cry out, "God be merciful to me, a sinner," and to say, "If thou, Lord, shouldest mark iniquities, O Lord, who shall stand?" (Luke xviii, 13; Ps. cxxx, 3, 4.) But the comfort is that He can make the vilest whiter than snow (Ps. li, 7). It is interesting to note that, while the child yet lived, David fasted and wept and lay all night upon the earth, for he said, "Who can tell whether God will be gracious to me, that the child may live?" But when the child died and the will of God was known then he said: "Wherefore should I fast? Can I bring him back again? I shall go to him, but he shall not return to me" (verses 15-23). When those dear to us are sick and we cannot tell what the will of God is for them and us it becomes us to wait earnestly upon Him for their health, but always in submission to His will. When He has made plain His will, whatever it may be, it becomes us to say, "Even so, Father," for we know that "as for God, His way is perfect" (Matt. xi, 26; Ps. the two names of Bathsheba's next child, Solomon and Jedidiah. The latter, as in the margin, signifies "beloved of the Lord," for the Lord loved him and sent by the hand of Nathan to name him. The Lord called him to David, "Behold, a son shall be born to thee who shall be a man of rest, * * * and I will give peace and quietness unto Israel in his days" (I Chron. xxii, 9). He said, "His name shall be Solomon," which, according to the margin, means "peaceable." There are just seven men in the Bible story who were named before they were born-five in the Old Testament and two in the New Testament. Find the others and consider them. Let us give the rest of our time to the very suggestive story of Mephibosheth in chapter ix. When David came to the kingdom he made inquiry for any who might be living of the house of Saul that he Walter Q. Park was probably the first lac," says L. T, Cooper, 'it is because than's sake. He found that there was ginning of the experimental tests to its 4). His being lame because of the fault of another reminds us that the ed with loving kindness, "I am a sinful man, O Lord" (Luke v, 8). David's restoring to him all that he had forfeited because of Saul reminds us that > for His name's sake. How beautiful to see Mephibosheth dwelling in Jerusalem and eating continually at the king's table, even though he continued lame on both his feet (ix, 13). Every saved sinner is privileged to dwell by faith in Jerusalem, City of Peace, and to feast upon flesh-dwelleth no good thing" (Rom. deasure in talking of their lameness their love is cold, their faith is weak, they are this and that and very miserable sinners. Better far to keep their lameness out of sight and enjoy and talk of the king's bounty.

or local color. Now for the story. Ivy Keller came home June 19 from Miss Shont's select school for young ladies. By June 21 she was bored limp. You could hardly see the plaits of her white tailored shirt waist for fraternity pins and secret society emblems, and her bedroom was ablaze with college banners and pennants such an extent that the maid gave notice every Thursday-which was upstairs cleaning day.

For two weeks after her return Ivy spent most of her time writing letters and waiting for them, and reading the classics on the front porch, dressed in a middy blouse and a blue skirt, with her hair done in a curly Greek effect like the girls on the covers of the Ladies' Magazine. She posed against the canvas bosom of the porch chair with one foot under her, the other swinging free, showing a tempting thing in beaded slipper, silk stocking, and what the story writers call "slim

On the second Saturday after her return her father came home for dinner at noon, found her deep in volume two of "Les Miserables."

"Whew! This is a scorcher!" he exclaimed, and dropped down on a wicker chair next to Ivy. Ivy looked at her father with languid interest, and smiled a daughterly smile. Ivy's father was an insurance man, alderman of his ward, president of the Civic Improvement club, member of five lodges, and an habitual delegate. It generally was he who introduced distinguished guests who spoke at the opera house on Decoration day. He called Mrs. Keller "Mother." and he wasn't above noticing the fit of a gown on a pretty feminine figure. He thought Ivy was an expurgated edition grand stand does not rise as one man of Lillian Russell, Madame De Stael.

"Who's that?" she asked. "Pitcher," explained Papa Keller, aconically. Then, patiently: "He throws the ball." "Oh," said Ivy. "What did you say his name was?"

"I didn't say. But it's Rudie Schlachweiler. The boys call him Dutch. Kind of a pet, Dutch is." "Rudie Schlachweiler!" murmured Ivy, dreamily. "What a strong name!" "Want some peanuts?" inquired her father.

the chances for hero worship are few. If it weren't for the traveling men our girls wouldn't know whether stripes or checks were the thing in gent's suitings. When the baseball season opened the girls swarmed on it. Those that didn't understand baseball pretended they did. When the team was out of town our form of greeting was changed from, "Good morning!" or "Howdy-do!" to "What's the score?" Every night the results of the games throughout the league were posted up on the blackboard in front of Schlager's hardware store, and to see the "Isn't this a grand night?" mur way in which the crowd stood around it, and streamed across the street toward it, you'd have thought they were giving away gas stoves and hammock

Going home in the street car after the game the girls used to gaze adoringly at the digty faces of their sweatbegrimed heroes, and then they'd rush home, have supper, change their dresses, do their hair, and rush downtown past the Parker hotel to mail their letters. The baseball boys boarded over at the Griggs house, which is third-class, but they used their tooth-nicks and held the postmortem of the day's game out in front of the Parker hotel, which is our leading hostelry. If Mrs. Freddy Van Dyne found the supply of available lions limited, why should she not try to content herself with a jackal or so?

Ivy was asked. Until then she had contented herself with gazing at her hero. She had become such a hardened baseball fan that she followed the game with a score card, accurately jotting down every play, and keeping her watch open on her knee.

She sat next to Rudie at dinner. Before she had nibbled her second salted almond Ivy Keller and Rudie Schlachweiler understood each other. Rudie illustrated certain plays by drawing lines on the tablecloth with his knife and Ivy gazed, wide-eyed, and allowed her soup to grow cold.

The first night that Rudie called, Pa Keller thought it a great joke. He sat out on the porch with Rudie and Ivy and talked baseball, and got up to show Rudie how he could have got the he had tried one of his famous openfaced throws. Rudie looked politely interested, and laughed in all the right places. But Ivy didn't need to pretend. Rudie Schlachweiler spelled her caller as a good-looking young man waist. Even as he sat there she saw pitcher's mound, with the scars of bat

16 Great Service Branches-54 Maxwell District Offices-More than 2,000 Maxwell Dealers are always at the Service of Those Who Drive Maxwell Cars

When you buy an automobile you buy two kinds of service. First:-The service given and guaranteed by the car itself. Second:—The service given by the maker and the dealer while the car is in use.

The service the Maxwell car gives is known. 38,000 satisfied Maxwell owners have given the car the rough and tumble acid test of fully eighteen months' service. The Maxwell has shown that it is able to stand up under the severest use. In cities, over country roads, through mud and sand and up the steepest mountains, the 1915 Maxwell has made good for 38,000 owners.

THE SERVICE THAT THE MAXWELL MOTOR COMPANY GIVES

The service that the Maxwell car gives cannot be questioned. Any automobile owner from time to time requires service from the maker of the car he drives. He sometimes needs new parts, adjustments, etc.

16 GREAT MAXWELL SERVICE BRANCHES

The Maxwell Motor Company takes care of Maxwell owners by maintaining 16 great Maxwell Service Branches. These branches are in great cities which have been selected in such a manner as to thoroughly cover the United States. They can deliver parts to any Maxwell dealer or Maxwell owner within a few hours.

54 MAXWELL DISTRICT OFFICES

54 Maxwell District Offices are maintained in leading cities. This means 54 District Managers, each with a corps of assistants. A great big part of the work of this army of skilled men is to see that Maxwell dealers give real Maxwell service to Maxwell MORE THAN 2,000 MAXWELL DEALERS ALWAYS AT YOUR SERVICE

Each of the Maxwell dealers in the United States and Canada is an automobile expert. Anyone of them stands ready at all times to give advice and assistance to any Maxwell owner. You can tour all of the United States and Canada and should your car require the attention of an expert you will find a Maxwell dealer near at hand. If you need a replacement part, and the dealer does not have it in stock, he can get it for you from the nearest Maxwell branch within a few hours.

Maxwell owners never have their cars out of service for days or weeks at a time waiting for replacement parts.
The $695 Maxwell "Wonder Car" is the greatest real automobile value ever offered. The service that the Maxwell Motor Company gives is not surpassed by the service given by any other automobile manufacturing organization in the world.

Read This List of Expensive Features. The 1915 Maxwell Has These Features And Many Others.

Attractive Streamline Body Pure streamline body; graceful crown fenders, with all rivets concealed. All the grace, style and "snap" that you will find in any of the highest priced cars.

A High-Tension Magneto Nearly all the high priced cars have high tension magnetos. A high tension magneto gives positive ignition. The Simms magneto, with which the Maxwell is equipped, is recognized as one of the best magnetos made.

Left Side Drive-Central Control Left side steer with gear shifting levers in center of driving compartment—center control—has been accepted by leading makers of expensive automobiles as the safest and most comfortable for the driver; that is why the Maxwell has it. The Maxwell is so easy to drive and control that a child can handle it.

Three-Speed Sliding Gear Transmission 'All high priced cars have a sliding gear transmission. It is costly to make, but it is the best. If the motor has the power, sliding gears will pull the car out of any mud or sand. The Maxwell has a three-speed selective sliding gear transmission because Maxwell engineers do not consider any other type to be worthy of the Maxwell car.

Double-Shell Radiator with Shock

Absorbing Device Absorbing Device

The Maxwell radiator is of handsome design, gracefully curved, and it is built to be trouble proof. It is the expensive double shell type and has ample cooling capacity. The radiator is mounted to the frame by means of a shock absorbing device on each side, which relieves the radiator of all twists and distortions of the frame, caused by roughness of the road. The shock absorbing device also minimizes the possibility of radiator leaks.

The Roomy Full 5-Passenger Body Adjustable Front Seat The 1915 Maxwell has a full grown 5-passenger body. The front seat is adjustable, you an love it three inches forward or backward. This nakes the car really comfortable for the driver. No cramped legs for tall people or uncomfortable reaching for short people. Most drivers' seats are made 19 fit anyone—so fit no one.

Low "Up-keep" Carburetor The carburetor used on the Maxwell was especially designed for it after long and severe tests under every conceivable condition. Economy tours conducted by hundreds of dealers and owners in different sections of the country have proved its efficiency, its quick response to throttle and its extremely low consumption of gasoline. It has been termed the "low up-keep" carburctor.

Irreversible Steering Gear The greatest margin of safety has been provided in the steering gear of the 1915 Maxwell. The Maxwell irreversible steering mechanism is of the expensive worm-and-gear type and its superiority over every other type lies in its many adjustments. At no time is more than a fourth of the bearing surface of the gear which operates the worm in use. When needed, a new bearing surface may-be had by adjusting the gear a quarter of a turn. In short, the Maxwell steering gear has four times the adjustment of any other kind.

Heavy Car Comfort

What surprises most people is the smooth, buoy
This starter is emclent, trouble proof and easily operated.

And the Maxwell is completely equipped from the clear vision, ventilating windshield at the front to the spare tire carrier at the rear.

One Size of Tire-Anti-Skids on Rear The Maxwell car is one of the easiest cars in the world on tires. Maxwell owners carry but one spare tire and but one size of spare tubes. Economical 30 inch x 3½ inch tires are used all around. A famous make of anti-skid tires are supplied on rear wheels.

A Dependable Electric Starter For $55 extra, you can have your Maxwell de-livered equipped with the famous Simms-Huff elec-tric starter. This starter is efficient, trouble proof

The Maxwell Company's Guarantee of Service to Maxwell Owners

No other automobile is backed by a more reliable service than that guaranteed every Maxwell owner. More than 2,000 Maxwell dealers —in every part of this country—are always ready to give expert advice, to make adjustments, and to supply new parts at reasonable prices.

This splendid Maxwell dealer service organization is perfected and completed by the chain of Maxwell owned and Maxwell operated Service Branches. Sixteen great Maxwell Service Stations are so located throughout the country that a Maxwell dealer can supply any part for an owner within a few hours if not in his stock. Maxwell Service is one of the great advantages enjoyed by Maxwell owners.

Order a Maxwell from us now, and when you want it delivered, we will give you your car-not an excuse on delivery day

RATE INCREASE

UNION OFFICIALS THINK RAILROADS ARE EN-TITLED TO MORE REVENUE.

Lives at Home Should Be Exempt From Increase.

By Peter Radford. Lecturer National Farmers' Union.

The recent action of the Interstate Commerce Commission in granting an increase in freight rates in the eastern classification of territory; the application of the roads to state and interstate commissions for an increase in rates, and the utterances of President Wilson on the subject bring the farmers of this nation face to face with the problem of an increase in freight rates. It is the policy of the Farmers' Union to meet the issues affecting the welfare of the farmers squarely and we will do so in this instance.

The transportation facilities of the United States are inadequate to effectively meet the demands of commerce and particularly in the South and West additional railway mileage is needed to accommodate the movement of farm products. If in the wisdom of our Railroad Commissions an increase in freight rates is necessary to bring about an improvement in our transportation service, and an extension of our mileage, then an increase should be granted, and the farmer is willing to share such proportion of the increase as justly belongs to him, but we have some suggestions to make as to the manner in which this increase shall be levied.

Rates Follow Lines of Least Resist-

The freight rates of the nation have been built up along lines of least resistance. The merchant, the manufacturer, the miner, the miller, the lumberman and the cattleman have had their traffic bureaus thoroughly organized and in many instances they have pursued the railroad without mercy and with the power of organized tonnage they have hammered the life out of the rates and with unrestrained greed they have eaten the vitals out of our transportation system and since we have had railroad commissions, these interests, with skill and cunning, are represented at every hearing in which their business is

The farmer is seldom represented at rate hearings, as his organizations have never had the finances to employ counsel to develop his side of the case and, as a result, the products of the plow bear an unequal burden of the freight expense. A glance at the freight tariffs abundantly proves this assertion. Cotton, the leading agricultural product of the South, already bears the highest freight rate of any necessary commodity in commerce, and the rate on agricultural products as a whole is out of proportion with that of the products of the factory and the mine.

We offer no schedule of rates, but hope the commission will be able to give the railroad such an increase in rates as is necessary without levying a further toll upon the products of the plow. The instance seems to present an opportunity to the Railroad Commissions to equalize the rates as between agricultural and other classes of freight without disturbing the rates on staple farm products.

What Is a Fair Rate?

We do not know what constitutes a basis for rate making and have never heard of anyone who did claim to know much about it, but if the prosperity of the farm is a factor to be considered and the railroad commission concludes that an increase in rates is necessary, we would prefer that it come to us through articles of consumption on their journey from the factory to the farm. We would, for example, prefer that the rate on nogs remain as at present and the rate on meat bear the increase, for any farmer can then avoid the burden by raising his own meat, and a farmer who will not try to raise his own meat ought to be penalized. We think the rate on coal and brick can much better bear an increase than the rate on cotton and flour. We would prefer that the rate on plows remain the same, and machinery, pianos and such articles as the poorer farmer cannot hope to possess bear the burden of increase. The increase in rates should be so arranged that the farmer who lives at home will bear no part of the burden, but let the farmer who boards in other states and countries and who feeds his stock in foreign lands, may the price of his folly.

Saved Girl's Life

"I want to tell you what wonderful benefit I have received from the use of Thedford's Black-Draught," writes Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Kv.

"It certainly has no equal for la grippe, bad colds, liver and stomach troubles. I firmly believe Black-Draught saved my little girl's life. When she had the measles, they went in on her, but one good dose of Thedford's Black-Draught made them break out, and she has had no more trouble. I shall never be without

In arranging to inaugurate this Chautauqua this year the local committee bought 1,000 $3.00 season tickets, which will be sold, while they last, by them for $2.50 each.

When these tickets are exhausted no season tickets thereafter can be had for less than $3.00. Also, the price of season tickets will not be reduced from the first day to the close of the Chautauqua.

For the single admissions to the respective entertainments see program. Season tickets are non-transferable except within the owner's family.

All season tickets are good for seven week days. There will be no Chautauqua on Sunday.

CHILDREN'S TICKETS Admit children aged six to fourteen years inclusive. All children are admitted to the children's work free.

CHAUTAUQUA WEEK HERE JULY 1st TO 8th

She made three paces thro' the room,
She saw the water-lilly bloom,
She saw the helmet and the plume,
She look'd down to Camelot.

Out flew the web and floated wide;

The mirror crack'd from side to side;

'The curse is come upon me,' cried The Lady of Shalott.

In the stormy east-wind straining,

Over tower'd Camelot

Down she came and found a boat

And down the river's dim expanse

Like some bold seer in a trance,

Seeing all his own mischance-

With a glassy contenance
Did she look to Camelot.

And at the closing of the day

And round about the prow she wrote The Lady of Shalott.

She loosed the chain, and down she lay;

The broad stream bore here far away, The Lady of Shalott.

The leaves upon her falling light-

Thro' the noises of the night She floated down to Camelot:

And as the boat-head wound along The willowy hills and fields among,

The Lady of Shalott.

Till her blood was frozen slowly,

And her eyes were darken'd wholly,

For ere she reach'd upon the tide

The Lady of Shalott.

And they cross'd themselves for fear,

But Lancelot mused a little space;

He said, 'She has a lovely face,

God in his mercy lend her grace; The Lady of Shalott.'

All the knights at Camelot:

The first house by the water-side, Singing in her song she died,

And in the lighted palace near Died the sound of royal cheer;

Turn'd to tower'd Camelot.

Heard a carol, mournful, holy,

They heard her singing her last song,

eneath a willow left afloat,

Heavily the low sky raining

THE LADY OF SHALOTT

PART I On either side the river lie Long fields of barley and of rye, That clothe the wold and meet the sky; And thro' the field the road runs by To many-tower'd Camelot; And up and down the people go, Gazing where the lilies blow Round an island there below. The island of Shalott.

Willows whiten, aspens quiver, Little breezes dusk and shiver Thro' the wave that runs for ever By the island in the river Flowing down to Camelot. Four gray walls, and four gray towers, Overlook a space of flowers, And the silent isle imbowers The Lady of Shalott.

By the margin, willow-veil'd, Slide the heavy barges trail'd By slow horses; and unhail'd The shallop flitteth silken-sail'd Skimming down to Camelot: But who hath seen her wave her hand? Or at the casement seen her stand? Or is she known in all the land. The Lady of Shalott?

Only reapers, reaping early In among the bearded barley, Hear a song that echoes cheerly From the river winding clearly, Down to tower'd Camelot: And by the moon the reaper weary, Piling sheaves in uplands airy, Listening, whispers 'T is the fairy Lady of Shalott.'

PART II

There she weaves by night and day She has heard a whisper say, A curse is on her if she stay To look down to Camelot. She knows not what the curse may be, And so she weaveth steadily, And little other care hath she, The Lady of Shalott.

And moving thro' a mirror clear That hangs before her all the year, Shadows of the world appear, There she sees the highway near Winding down to Camelot There the river eddy whirls, And there the surly village-churls, And the red cloaks of market girls, Pass onward from Shalott

But in her web she still delights To weave the mirror's magic sights, For often thro' the silent nights A funeral, with plumes and lights And music, went to Camelot Or when the moon was overhead, Came two young lovers lately wed; 'I am half sick of shadows,' said The Lady of Shalott.

A bow-shot from her bower-eaves, He road between the barley-sheaves. The sun came dazzling thro' the leaves, And flamed upon the brazen greaves Of bold Sir Lancelot. A red-cross knight for ever kneel'd To a lady in his shield, That sparkled on the yellow field, Beside remote Shalott.

The gemmy bridle glitter'd free, Like to some branch of stars we see Hung in the golden Galaxy. The bridle bells rang merrily As he rode down to Camelot: And from his blazon'd baldric slung A mighty silver bugle hung, And as he rode his armor rung, Beside remote Shalott.

All in the blue unclouded weather The helmet and the helmet-feather Burn'd like one burning flame together As he rode down to Camelot. As often thro' the purple night, Below the starry clusters bright. Moves over still Shalott.

His broad clear brow in sunlight glow'd; On burnish'd hooves his war-horse trode; From underneath his helmet flow'd His coal-black curls as on he rode As he rode down to Camelot. From the bank and from the river He flash'd into the crystal mirror, 'Tirra lirra,' by the river of civilization battling for supremacy. The struggle now going on between the rubber and the iron tire promises to be the liveliest contest of the Twentieth Century.

The struggle is a silent one and there are no war correspondents to J. write vivid descriptions of the conflict but the results are more farreaching to present and future generations than the war of Europe. The rubber tire has been maneuvering for point of attack for several years and has captured a few unim portant positions in traffic, but it has now pitched a decisive battle with its iron competitor by hurling a million "jitneys" at the street railways and the battle is raging from ocean to ocean. Upon the result of the struggle depends the future of the rubber tire. If it is compelled to retreat, its doom is sealed, but if it wins the battle it will revolutionize the transportation methods of this nation. If the rubber tire conquers the street traffic its next struggle is with the railroads of the country, and then the greatest battle between eco forces ever fought out on the face Harry M Blanton, of this earth is on, for iron is the undisputed master in transportation, and is fortified behind billions of dollars, and millions of men. Stephenson applied the steel tire to an iron rail in 1814, but it was 1869 before the golden spike was driven at Promontory Point, which bound the country together with bands of steel. It took the iron tire fifty-five years to creep from ocean to ocean, but the rubber tire while warm from the creative mind of the inventive genius sped across the continent like an arrow shot from the bow of Ulysses. The roadbed was already prepared and therein lies the power of morality. With saloonkeepers as the rubber tire over that of iron, for government builds and maintains the public highway.
